

"Today,
I Learned"

The wall for which Wall St. is named was designed to keep out the English settlers to the north.

Johnson

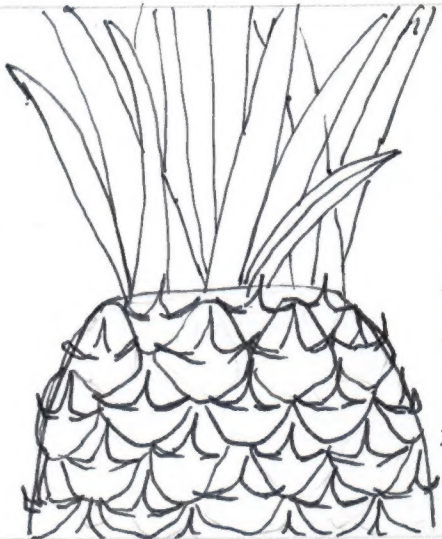

Sticking scotch tape

onto frosted glass

lets you see

right through it.

Pineapple eats you
back.

It contains an enzyme called bromelain that breaks down meat proteins which is why your mouth tingles.

When lightning hits
sand, a
glass
formation
called
"fulgurite"
is formed.
It
looks like frozen
lightning.

A horse can actually generate up to 15 horsepower.

A trained
human can even
do up
to 2.5.

The hacked orb
weaver has no
fangs.
It crushes
its prey
to death
with loop after loop of silk, wrapping
it
tighter
and tighter
until it basically implodes.
